This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. Preface.

THE object of this Edition is to present in an accessible form various works by English composers of the sixteenth, seventeenth, and eighteenth centuries, which would otherwise be difficult to obtain.

It is intended to reprint a selection from the music hidden away in public and private libraries, which is almost unknown, except to antiquaries and collectors of rare books.

Each volume will be accompanied by Introductions, Biographical Notices, and references to the authorities whence information is obtained.

Introduction

To No. xBi. Old English Edition.

THIS volume contains the first fifteen of Weelkes' "Ayeres or Phantasticke Spirites for three voices," first published in 1608. The remainder will be given in No. 17 of this Series.

In preparing this Edition, the Editor has freely revised Weelkes' words, and has altered and omitted whenever he thought it advisable without pointing out in detail where the alterations occur. In the Music, however, such few corrections as have been made are always indicated. A sharp or natural placed over a note is suggested by the Editor, and is not marked in the original Edition.

An account of Weelkes and his works will be found in the Introductions to Nos. 13 and 15 of this Series, to which there is nothing fresh to be added at present.

NOTE.—THESE AIRS CAN BE OBTAINED SEPARATELY AT TWOPENCE HALFPENNY EACH.

Cum Priuilegio.

TO THE RIGHT HOnourable EDWARD L. DENNY, Baron of Waltham, Thomas Weelkes wiſheth the happines of both worldes.

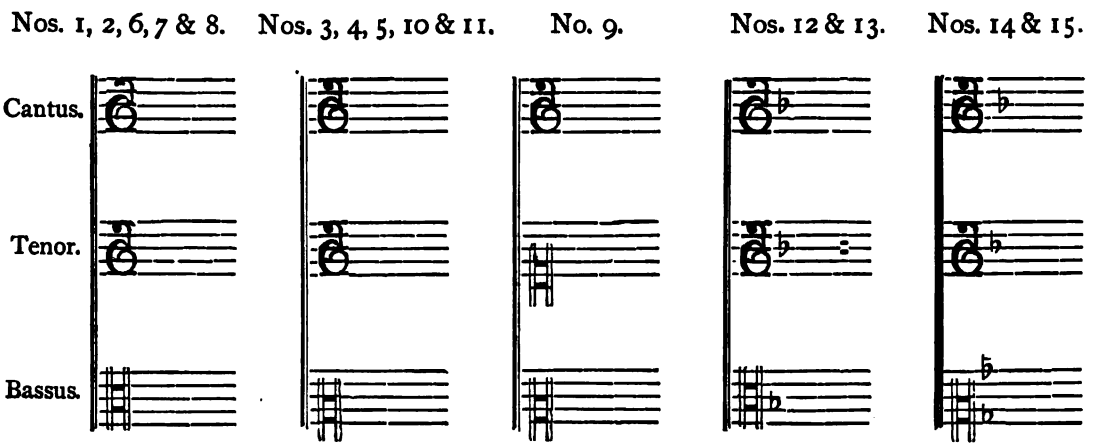
RIght Honourable, it were needleſſe to commend the worth of muſicke to a minde of noble diſpoſition, for in the natures of muſicke and generous men, ther is a ſympathie, this being only grac'd by them; and they the onely patrones of this profeſſion: beſides, the particular reſpect of duetie which I owe your Lordſhip, doth commaund this dedication, to whoſe ſeruice I owe the beſt of all my labours, and the beſt of my duetious affections. May it therefore pleaſe you to accept this poore demonſtration of my duety and loue, to whoſe pleaſure and ſeruice, I truely dedicate my ſelfe, and theſe my labours.

Your Honors in all duety, and humble ſeruice,

THOMAS WEELKES.

A Table of the Clefs

Used in the original Edition, 1608.



I.

COME, let's begin to revel 't out,
And tread the hills and dales about,
That hills and dales and woods may sound
An echo to this warbling round.

Lads, merry be with music sweet
And, Fairies, trip it with your feet.
Pan's pipe is dull; a better strain
Doth stretch itself to please your vein.

II.

JOCKEY, thine hornpipe's dull,
Give wind, man, at full;
Fie upon such a sad gull,
Like an hoody doody
All too moody.
Toodle, toodle,
Pipe it up thicker,
I'll tread it the quicker.
Why then about it roundly
And I will foot it soundly;
I'll take my steps the shorter
As if I trampled mortar.

Dorothy there I see
As grave as can be:
Come and trip it with me:
With an hoody doody
All too moody.
Toodle, toodle,
Set me thy work by
And come to me smurkly.
Then if she chance to glance in
Give us two room to dance in.
Though my green jerkin bare is,
Us two to all the parish.

iii.

Some men desire spouses
That come of noble houses,
And some would have in marriage
Ladies of courtly carriage. Fa la la.
And some desire as I do
The lands and wealth of a widow. Fa la la.

Some men do seek fair faces
And youthful comely graces:
But beauty's ever wasting;
Youth to old age is hasting. Fa la la.
I'll get or I'll go nigh to
The lands and wealth of a widow. Fa la la.

iv.

To-morrow is the marriage day
Of Mopsus and fair Phillida:
Come, shepherds, bring your garlands gay.

O do not weep fair Bellamour,
Though he be gone there's many more,
For love hath many loves in store.

V.

Upon a hill the bonny boy
Sweet Thirsis sweetly play'd,
And call'd his lambs their master's joy,
And more he would have said,
But Love that gives the lovers wings
Withdrew his mind from other things.

His pipe and he could not agree
For Milla was his note:
This silly pipe could never get
This lovely name by rote.
With that they both fell in a sound,
He fell asleep, his pipe to ground.

VI.

Come sirrah Jack, ho,
Fill some tobacco;
Bring a wire
And some fire;
Haste away,
Quick I say,
Do not stay,
Shun delay,
For I drank none good to-day.
I swear that this tobacco
It's perfect Trinidado.
By the very very mass
Never never never was Better gear
Than is here.
By the rood,
For the blood
It is very very good.

Fill the pipe once more,
My brains dance Trenchmore.
It is heady,
I am giddy;
My head and brains,
Back and reins,
Joints and veins,
From all pains

It doth well purge and make clean.
Then those that do condemn it,
Or such as not commend it,
Never were so wise to learn
Good tobacco to discern,
Let them go,
Pluck a crow,
And not know,
As I do,
The sweet of Trinidado.

VII.

TAN ta ra ran tan tant,
Cries Mars on bloody rampier.
Fa la, fa la, fa la,
Cries Venus in a chamber.
Toodle loodle loo,
Pan pipes it away,
And gaily does play
On a summer's day.
Aye me.
But I alas lie weeping,
For death hath slain my sweeting,
Which hath my heart in keeping.

VIII.

(FROM HORACE.)

THE gods have heard my vows,
Fond Lyce, whose fair brows
Wont scorn with such disdain
My love, my tears, my pain. Fa la la.

But now those spring-tide roses
Are turn'd to winter posies,
To rue and thyme and sage
Fitting that shrivell'd age. Fa la la.

Now youths with hot desire
See see that flameless fire
Which erst your hearts so burn'd
To dust and ashes turn'd. Fa la la.

IV.

THOUGH my carriage be but careless,
  Though my looks be of the sternest,
Yet my passions are compareless;
  When I love, I love in earnest.

No, my wits are not so wild
  But a gentle soul may yoke me,
Nor my heart so hard compil'd
  But it melts, if love provoke me.

I.

THE Ape, the Monkey and Baboon did meet,
And breaking of their fast in Friday Street
Two of them sware together solemnly
In their three natures was a sympathy.
Nay, quoth Baboon, I do deny that strain,
I have more knavery in me than you twain.

Why, quoth the Ape, I have a horse at will
In Paris Garden for to ride on still
And there shew tricks. Tush, quoth the Monkey, I
For better tricks in great men's houses lie.
Tush, quoth Baboon, when men do know I come
For sport from City, country, they will run.

VI.

No, no,
Though I shrink still,
Yet I think still
That a wink will
Tell what lovers best know,
Fa la la liro logh.
Till then I will be glad,
And then I will be mad;
Hang up all love that is sad,
Fa la la liro logh.

What, what?
If she feign so
Then I plain go
In a vein to
Leave her false smiles, that's flat.
Fa la la liro logh.
Till then I will be glad,
And then I will be mad;
Hang up all love that is sad,
Fa la la liro logh.

xii.

Ave me, alas, heigh ho, heigh ho!
Thus doth Messalina go
Up and down the house a-crying,
For her Monkey lies a-dying.
Death, thou art too cruel
To bereave her jewel,
Or to make a seizure
Of her only treasure.
If her Monkey die
She will sit and cry
Fie, fie, fie, fie, fie.

xiii.

LATE in my rash accounting
My fortune was amounting, Fa la la.
And now all is undone,
All courses backwards run, Fa la la.

Hearts greedy in desiring
Are speedy in aspiring, Fa la la.
But this female sex
Make stout hearts break their necks, Fa la la.

You Ladies fair and fickle
Whose climbing thoughts do tickle, Fa la la,
Shall most deeply repent
And find a base descent, Fa la la.

XIV.

FOUR arms, two necks, one wreathing,
Two pair of lips, one breathing, Fa la la.
Two hearts that multiply
Sighs interchangeably, Fa la la.

The thought of this confounds me,
And as I speak it wounds me, Fa la la.
It cannot be exprest,
Good help me whilst I rest, Fa la la.

IV.

LORD, when I think
What a paltery thing
Is a glove or a ring
Or a top of a fan to brag of,
And how much a noddy will triumph
In a busk point snatch'd with the tag off.
Then I say
Well fare him that hath ever scorn'd such child's play.

And when I see
What a pitiful grace
Hath a frown in the face
Or a no in the lips of a lady,
And when I had wist
She would be kiss'd,
Then she away did go
With hey ho,
I end so;
Never trust any woman more than you know.
